

What's So Important About Your Feet?

Your body is the world's greatest supercomputer. Unlike your laptop or desktop, the body has built-in antivirus/antispam software that attempts to rid itself of toxins caused from the environment; exposure to heavy metals and chemicals; as a result of poor nutritional habits; and pollution. This debris builds up over time, throughout the human body.

When your feet sweat, they are naturally disposing of these poisons through the multitude of pores and meridian points located in the bottom of your feet.

Your feet are conduits - or channels - through which your body naturally eliminates wastes that get trapped in the cells of your body. The longer these toxins remain in your system, the more health issues you will face, now or in the future.

Sometimes nature needs a little help.

The Detoxifying Ionic Footbath was designed by electrical engineer and Healthy Choices LLC owner, Steve Krzyzewski, to help your body detoxify to its maximum potential. The result is the restoration of the body's energy-balance.

Balance & Restore

A Little Footbath That is Making a Big Splash...

How Does the Detoxifying Ionic Footbath Work?

The Detoxifying Ionic Footbath sends low voltage charges into the water using just a little sea salt for conductivity. These positively charged ions travel through the body and attach themselves to toxic substances, neutralizing them, and pulling them from the body and into the water using a process known as osmosis.

The result is a recharging of your body so it can absorb vital energy on a cellular level, creating cell balance.

What Does Detoxifying the Body Mean?

The human body functions by sending electromagnetic signals from the brain to each part of the body. The body, in turn, returns these signals back to the brain.

In a perfectly energy-balanced system, cells have enough energy to execute this process effortlessly; but unfortunately, with the build-up of toxins in our system, our bodies do not always work to their peak potential.
